President,
The University of Toronto.

Dear Sir,

Upon asking for information from the Bursar regarding the Carnegie Pension Fund, I am informed that not only does one not come under it until one reaches the rank of lecturer, but also two years service is required by this University before one's contributions begin. The Bursar interprets this as meaning two years service as lecturer, but suggests that I may ask you to consider my previous service as demonstrator.

I have held the position of demonstrator in this department for the last three years, and having become a lecturer this year, I should like to ask if I may not be allowed to come under the Carnegie Fund this year, instead of waiting two years more.

Thanking you,

I am Yours respectfully,

E. Horne Craigie.
